

IT WAS COLD AND SLIPPERY — Ole man winter pushed the temperatures down to sub-freezing levels again and sprinkled some slippery conditions onto the roadways in the area, making conditions miserable for virtually everyone.

The weather was so cold that a fire hydrant near the Ramada Inn in Romulus froze last week, preventing firemen (top left) from getting water to fight a blaze in the motel near Metropolitan Airport. Romulus firemen had to draw their water from a pumper truck to counter the blaze (lower left). In addition the slippery conditions caused several cars to slide off the road such as the case of one motorist (top right) yesterday in Romulus.

City OK's budget change for public works building

By JIM CARRAVALLAH

The Romulus City Council has authorized the transfer of more than $120,000 within the city's budget for interior construction in the city's recently purchased department of public works building. The funds, which had been budgeted for work in the old DPW building on Bibbins Street, will be used to partition the vacant industrial building purchased by the city last September.

affairs, replaces Jack Trumble on the board.

The Board of Review hears appeals on individual tax levies and assessments from taxpayers in the community. It convenes in March.

A vacancy on the city's charter review committee was filled by Deanna Lovenduski, assistant city clerk.

Mrs. Lovenduski was appointed to the vacancy created by the resignation of Carl Morris.

Included in the committee are Councilmen Edmund Bizek, Ellis Pennington and Brooker Edwards along with Mrs. Nellie Wehnt, Pennington's cousin, and Mrs.

Lovenduski.

The council approved a request from the city's water and sewer inspectors to attend a public works construction inspectors conference in Livonia. The conference convenes once a week for the next six weeks in the Livonia Holiday Inn.

The city also intends to advertise for competitive bids for a city ambulance service. The contract between Superior Ambulance Service and the city terminates March 10.

Investigation will continue on inn fire

Romulus fire officials are investigating the cause of a blaze which struck the Ramada Inn on Wickham Road in Romulus last Thursday.

Fire struck a room on the fourth story of the structure about 4 p.m. Thursday afternoon, forcing evacuation of all but 60 rooms of the 250-room structure.

Romulus fire officials answered the call with five pieces of equipment, including an aerial ladder truck from the Taylor Fire Department. The Taylor equipment stayed on the scene until fire officials found that the Romulus equipment could reach the blaze at the west wing of the structure.

Said one guest while preparing to leave late Thursday, "I don't know what happened, but some guy came running down the hall like a bat out of hell."

"Then a bunch of people began knocking on the doors to get everyone out, and then the buzzer rang."

"They told everyone to leave."

Fire officials said there were no injuries in the blaze, which gutted the room and caused smoke damage to adjoining rooms.

Motel management reported that, although some rooms were evacuated during the blaze, the motel was in full operation late Thursday.

Management said that the room destroyed in the blaze, and those damaged by smoke would be in use in the near future.

Friday is voter deadline

The voter registration deadline for the Huron School District's millage renewal election is 5 p.m. Friday.

The Board of Education of the Huron School District is seeking voter approval of a 10-mill renewal proposition in a special school election scheduled March 26.

The school district's current total school property tax levy is $27.83 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation (state equalized)

"The money had been set aside for construction of a meter room in the old building and a portion of it was used in the renovation," said Albert Glinski, city treasurer. "But, since there was little room for expansion in the old building, the city had purchased the new building late last year, and now, the funds are being used to remodel that building."

Glinski said that with completion of the new building's remodeling, the old building will be converted to a fire station on the west side of the C&O Railroad tracks.

The transfer of funds brings the total city expenditure for a new DPW facility to nearly $600,000. More than $472,000 was budgeted last year for the purchase of the new facility.

With completion of the remodeling, the city's entire 45-man department of public works force, and all the city's equipment will be stored in the new location, directly across the street from the civic center.

In addition to the budget transfer, the council filled two vacancies on city commissions.

Irvin Icenogle, a long-time resident, was named to the tax Board of Review. Icenogle, who is active in senior citizen

A new jail and county court facility may be built in Western Wayne County, if county commissioners can legislate it to a date $39 million to the county.

The Detroit Water Board owes the county $39 million. The money is due to be paid back to the county beginning this year in installments stretching to the year 1991.

In his first state of the county message, Wayne County Board of Commissioners Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick proposed asking the state for the money in advance and letting the water board funds go to the state as payment.

"In this way, Wayne County can build a new jail and provide judicial quarters without the taxpayers paying additional taxes either to the county or the state," FitzPatrick said.

In November Wayne County voters turned down a millage request for the construction of a new jail.

He also outlined five other "pressing problems" the county could solve with the $39 million advance.

The problems include: — building a modern psychiatric facility system and developing an expanded mental health outreach program;

— establishing a coor-

— substantially stepping up the county's attack on drugs and alcohol abuse;

— providing the needed services to the county's elderly population;

— adopting a sound growth policy for the county.

FitzPatrick presented his state of the county message to the full board of commissioners yesterday.

After he read the 12-page document, the commissioners and spectators in the meeting room on the 13th floor of the City-County Building clapped with approval.

Although one commissioner said he did not agree with everything FitzPatrick said, he congratulated the chairman for presenting a report commending the accomplishments of the county board of commissioners in its four years of existence.

The first six pages of the message summed up the accomplishments of the board from Jan. 3, 1969, "when the first directly-elected legislative body in the history of Wayne County government

City may condemn unsafe structures

The Romulus City Council adopted an emergency ordinance giving the city condemnation rights over unsafe structures.

The new ordinance, read at Thursday's regular council meeting, gives the city the right to condemn a structure at the recommendation of the city's building inspector or health officer.

Owners of a structure scheduled for condemnation will be notified by mail seven days prior to a hearing required by the ordinance, or, in the event the owner can't be contacted, a notice of the hearing will be published in the city's official newspaper three weeks prior to the date of the hearing.

Costs for demolition will be paid, by the owner, either directly, or by having the costs levied against the property as a special assessment.

The ordinance, adopted as an emergency measure at the meeting, will take effect upon publication of the legal notice in the Romulus Roman.

Carriers collect

The carrier boy who delivers this newspaper to your door, will be calling to collect 50 cents for the month of February. This will include payment for the issue of Feb. 28. If your paper was started late in the month, he will collect a smaller amount.

Your carriers will appreciate prompt payment. If you have any suggestions on how he can improve his service to you, he invites your suggestions.

Bell may hike telephone rate

Residential telephone users in Western Wayne County will be paying up to 80 cents more per month for flat rate one-party service if a rate increase requested last week by Michigan Bell Telephone Company is approved.

The rate hike request, presented Thursday to the Michigan Public Service Commission in Lansing, would see the HU or 48 exchange in western Van Buren Township affected the greatest within the area.

Phone bills in the HU or 48 exchange would rise from $5.60 to $6.40 per month for flat rate one-party use.

The rate change in the OX or 69 exchange in Belleville and Van Buren and Sumpter townships would be increased 75 cents per month, from $5.40 to $6.15, as would the PL or 75 exchange in New Boston and Huron Township.

The rate change in the WH or 94 exchange in Romulus would be 50 cents per month, from $6.15 to $6.65. Residences having metro service — enabling local phone calls to be made throughout virtually the entire metropolitan Detroit area — will have their monthly increased from $13.10 to $14. for 25 hours of telephone time.

The proposed rate changes in now way affect budget telephone service, which allows 50 local phone calls for $3 per month. Many senior citizens use the budget setup.

Businesses in Western Wayne County likewise will be affected by the proposed rate hike.

Those businesses with metro service will have their monthly rate remain at $16.75, but their per call rate will be hiked from six to seven cents.

Business would retain their $5.75 per month service charge and their monthly charge of $1.65 for extension phones, however a $1.65 charge would be added for the initial phone and the per call charge of 4 1/2 cents would be increased to five cents.

Taxpayers aided by IRS service

Many taxpayers again may have the Internal Revenue Service compute their income tax and retirement income credit, Thomas A. Cardoza, IRS District Director for Michigan, said today.

He said the IRS on request will compute the tax for persons with incomes of $20,000 or less, who take the standard deduction, and whose income is solely from salaries, wages, tips, dividends, interest, pension and annuities.

If the taxpayer also wants the IRS to compute his retirement income credit, he should include the basic information on Schedule R and attach it to his Form 1040, Mr. Cardoza said. He should also enter "RIC" on line 19, Form 1040. Instructions on Schedule R explain which items need to be provided.

For those who qualify, the IRS will compute the tax, whether the return is a Short Form 1040A or the regular 1040. The tax instructions explain what information should be entered on the return, Mr. Cardoza said.

After this information is entered on the return, the taxpayer should sign it and send it to the Cincinnati Service Center, Cincinnati, Ohio 45298.

He said the IRS will then compute the tax and send the taxpayer a refund or a bill for the tax due, whichever is the case.

AWARD FOR SAFETY RECORD — Trooper Robert C. Following the presentation Trooper Brandt gave a talk to all the classes at the Belleville school on bicycle safety.

Trooper visits schools

Students in Belleville and Romulus schools have been getting acquainted with Trooper Robert C. Brandt of the Michigan State Police post at Ypsilanti.

The trooper's visits are friendly ones.

He addresses assemblies of students from kindergarten through sixth grade giving a suitably illustrated talk on safety and the Green Pennant program.

The school flying the Green Pennant is demonstrating that no student at the school has been involved in a traffic-related accident during, before or after school hours for 30 days.

If a student is at fault in an accident, the school must take down the pennant until another 30 consecutive days without an accident.

The school that flies the green pennant for the entire school year is awarded a Green Banner at the end of the school year.

District to get 13 of 16 grants

Thirteen of the 16 top priority sewage works construction grants under the federal water pollution control act have been scheduled for the 11th State Senatorial District.

One of the thirteen programs, a $35 million project in Wyandotte has already been partially funded. Senator John E. McCauley (D-12th District) stressed that rapid completion of the various projects depend on the availability of money and continued cooperation by local governmental units.

"The fact that top priorities have been assigned to projects in South Wayne and Monroe counties underlines the success of efforts on the part of government and affected citizens to bring to the attention of the federal and state agencies the need for massive programs to put an end to water pollution in our area".

The total cost of the 13 projects approximates $117 million. Each one of them was assigned maximum pollution priority points, which will aid in getting available monies assigned to the various projects.

Under the program, 75 per cent of the cost of the project is borne by the federal government, 5 per cent by the State of Michigan and the balance by the local units involved in each element of construction.

"I am extremely pleased that we have been assigned such high priorities for available funds," McCauley said. "Much credit must go to the local agencies who provided excellent presentations in their applications, stressing the great need our people have for pollution relief. It is most gratifying to have had a part in this program of progress, and I will continue to do whatever needs to be done to bring the program to completion."

BIG GEORGE MAKES THE COMPETITION OTHERS TRY TO MEET!

Voting precincts are split in city

By JIM CARRAVALLAH

Voting in Romulus will be sped up next election, with the near completion of three precinct splits.

Voters in the city have been notified that three precincts in the city — the third, seventh and ninth — have been split to facilitate voting.

The third precinct has been split into a new 14th precinct, with new polling places established for both.

Voters in the new third precinct will vote at the Beverly Elementary School. The polling place was moved from the old Firehall No. Three.

"It will mean that voters will have a shorter distance to travel to the polls in that precinct," said Deanna Lovenduski, assistant city clerk.

The new 14th precinct polling place will be located in the Cory Elementary School.

The split of the precinct, which also saw part of the eighth precinct joined with the old third, was dictated by growth in the community. State law sets a limit of 1,400 voters per precinct.

The old third had 1,153 voters and the eighth had 789.

With the split, and shift in precinct boundaries, the third will have 519 voters, the eighth will have 542 voters and the new 14th will have 868.

The split of the old seventh into a new 13th precinct made by necessary by both growth in the community and the 1970 State House redistricting formula.

Voters in the seventh precinct will be part of the 22nd State Representative District, while voters in the 13th precinct will be part of the 38th State Representative district.

Where the old seventh precinct had 1,196 voters, the new seventh precinct will have 630 and the 13th precinct will have 575.

The new precinct will have the Romulus Junior High School as a polling place while the old precinct will cast votes in the Mt. Pleasant Elementary School.

Anticipated growth in the Merriman Road-I-94 Expressway area of the city dictated the split in the old ninth precinct.

A recent rezoning for apartments along Merriman Road and talk of a high rise apartment complex in the area threatened to bring the number of registered voters above the 1,400 maximum.

The ninth precinct will be split into the new 15th, with both precincts casting ballots at the Hayti Elementary School.

Where the old ninth precinct had 1,246 voters, the new ninth precinct will have 770 and the 15th precinct will have 594.

Of the nearly 4,000 notifications sent to voters in the three precincts, more than 500 have been returned, with a post office note that the addressee is either unknown or unavailable.

"It's pretty certain that these people won't be voting," Mrs. Lovenduski said, "but, under the Supreme Court ruling which says I can't remove voters from the rolls, I must keep them in good standing, unless I can prove by registered mail that they no longer live in the community."

CARL RENTON business affairs for the Huron School District.

He also served as secretary of the Wayne County Business Officials during the 1971-72 school year and as vice-president of the organization during the 1972-73 school year.

Active in numerous PTA activities, Mr. Renton was instrumental in organizing the first PTA at the Hannan Road Elementary.

The memorial tribute sponsored by Faust describes Mr. Renton as a "dedicated public servant, who devoted his life and genius to the betterment of the people and the State of Michigan."

Faust honors Carl Renton in statement

A resolution paying tribute to the late Carl Renton, former assistant superintendent of the Huron School District, was introduced in the Michigan Senate by Senator William Faust (D-Westland).

"Mr. Renton has surely left a great and unextinguishable influence upon education in the State of Michigan," said Faust in the resolution.

"He has left a legacy of service and accomplishment that will live eternally, standing in each citizen's mind as a memorial."

Born March 17, 1927, Mr. Renton received a bachelor of arts degree from Michigan State Normal College and a master of arts degree from Wayne State.

In 1949, he accepted a teaching position with the Huron Township School District, launching, as the resolution puts it, "a career in which the words, service, dedication and understanding came to symbolize concrete achievement."

Mr. Renton served two terms on the Huron Board of Education, from 1963 to 1968 when he resigned to accept a position as assistant superintendent in charge of

Civil service question to be on August ballot

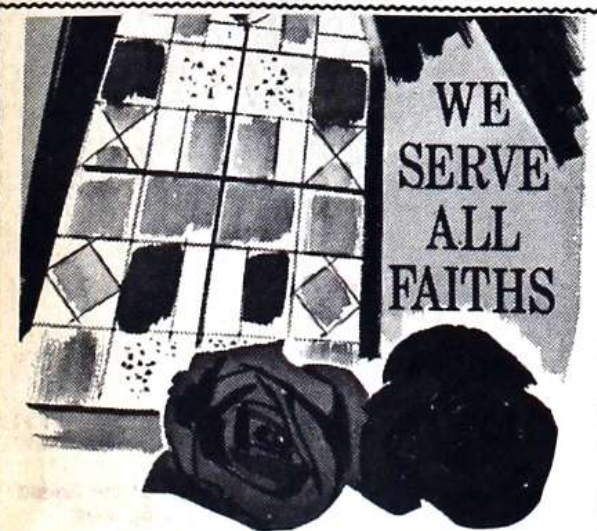

Romulus voters will have a second chance to vote on establishing a civil service system in the city.

The Romulus City Council has authorized the city's legal department to draw up a resolution for a new civil service system for the city's primary election this August.

The anticipated vote will be the second on the issue.

The first civil service question posed to the voters in 1970 was "soundly" defeated.

The city charter stipulates that voters in the city must decide on implementing a civil service system within 18 months of the adoption of the charter. The document further directs that the issue must appear three times, before it can be considered defeated.

Sheriffs find body in car

Officers of the road patrol of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department found the body of a one-legged Flint resident in the trunk of his new Lincoln Continental in a parking lot at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus.

The discovery of the man who was suspected of being a dope dealer according to police was made Saturday afternoon when road patrol officers spotted the silver-colored Mark IV which had been reported missing in the short term parking lot across from the airport's south terminal.

Members of the road patrol said the man appeared to have been shot in the head with a large-caliber gun. His head was wrapped in plastic bags, to keep the blood from running out of the car trunk, a sheriff said.

Flint police who were summoned to the airport said the body was that of John Billings, 42, who was arrested on a narcotics charge only two weeks ago.

Identification was made at the Wayne County Morgue. Billings was 6 feet, 4 inches tall and weighed more than 250 pounds. His left leg was missing and officers said his artificial leg was found in the car.

Billings, according to Lt. Louis Szabo of the Flint police was a suspected narcotics trafficker and traveled often to other cities.

The dead man's car had been reported missing a week ago, Szabo said.

On Saturday, road patrol deputies spotted the car in the airport parking lot. Approaching the car, the deputies saw the plastic leg on the back seat, double-checked the license with Flint police and then forced the trunk open.

The airport's parking lot has been used several times before to dispose of bodies of victims of "gangland" killings, police said.

Romulus school board hosts county meeting

Members of the Wayne County State and Federal Coordinators, representing about 30 school districts met at the Romulus Board of Education office, 36520 Grant Rd., Romulus, to discuss federal funding for educational programs.

The main topic on the agenda for the meeting held last Friday morning was "Performance Objectives." Presentations were made by staff members of the Romulus School District regarding how they developed Behavioral Objectives to meet the state and federal required guidelines.

It began last summer when a two-day workshop was held to write performance objectives for the kindergarten and first grade students. Eleven staff members were responsible to develop math and reading goals and objectives for the kindergarten and first grade.

Mrs. Lorena Burton, director of federal programs for the Romulus School District and a member of the federal coordinator's planning committee, was chairman of the program.

Three Romulus staff members who made the presentation were Dr. Warren Williams, consultant from Eastern Michigan University, Mrs. Rose Raspberry and Mrs. Igy Ross, both kindergarten teachers.

Norman Brown, consultant from Michigan Department of Education indicated the writing of Performance Objectives for kindergarten and first grade students was mandated by the state department for schools receiving funds serving Chapter Three students.

Another group of educators from the Highland Park School District made a presentation on their own program using the state accountability model which include: goals, performance objectives; needs assessment, delivery system, evaluation and recommendations.

Miss Betty Colden, Linda Kozak, Dorothy Hileman and John Stindt, represented the Highland Park School

Hearing test

The Romulus Senior Citizens Club will receive hearing tests at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Romulus City Hall.

County may build new jail, court

FitzPatrick will present his proposals to county committees for study and then to the Ways and Means Committee for approval.

He said that once full board approval is given, he will move quickly to try and get the state money to implement his programs.

The chairman's first proposal dealt with the construction of a new jail downtown Detroit to house 350 prisoners.

"I propose that the county enable the City of Detroit to begin to go out of the jail business," FitzPatrick said. "I propose that we do this by providing in our new downtown building, the cell block facilities needed by the Detroit Police Department."

"In addition, the county should build a second facility in Western Wayne County and negotiate with the city (Detroit) and state for the phasing out of the Detroit House of Correction, with the county assuming the responsibility for housing convicted misdemeanants."

For courtroom space, FitzPatrick proposed that the county build a new Western Wayne County court facility and "that in the interim — since it will take about three years to complete that facility — we use, lease and renovate downtown office space."

The chairman also said the county should establish a corrections department to run the jail facilities and the probation program.

FitzPatrick estimates that the projects would cost the county $25 million. The remaining $14 million would be used for psychiatric facilities.

"Economic development is another concern which demand our attention," the chairman said. "Our population is going to expand, particularly in Western Wayne County where growth has been accelerating rapidly. We must see that this expansion occurs in an intelligent manner, that job opportunities and economic opportunities are developed so as to minimize unemployment."

"I propose, therefore, that we provide $250,000 to undertake a land-use planning and growth policy development effort. This would enable

Complaint hearing set

The Michigan Employment Relations Commission has set March 2 as the hearing date for the Teamsters Union complaint against Romulus for failure to bargain.

The hearing will be to discuss the complaint by the Teamsters that Romulus has failed to bargain since December over upgrading and retraining of jobs in the clerk section of the city's employee union.

Charges were filed against the city two weeks ago by Walter Sacharczyk, business representative for Teamsters Local 214, which represents municipal employes unions throughout southern Michigan.

The city has delayed negotiations pending an auditor's report on job efficiency.

The report was to have been presented to the city council by last Thursday's meeting.

us to provide both jobs and a livable environment for the long-range future."

In his 12-page message, FitzPatrick said the county should elevate concern about alcohol and drug abuse by providing a mechanism that would bring together the work of the Community Mental Health Services Board, the Coordinating Council and non-government agencies.

"Only the closest possible coordination and cooperation of, the growing number of drug and alcohol programs in Wayne County will be sufficient to cope with the crisis at hand," the chairman said.

"In order to accomplish this and bid effectively for federal funds, we need a county drug and alcohol abuse commission," he added. "I propose that we provide from existing funds such monies as are necessary to enable this commission to mount a major assault on these problems in Wayne County."

Financial finger points back to Milliken

By DON HOENSHELL, Lansing Bureau Chief

Trouble is brewing for Gov. William G. Milliken among Senate Democrats who resent his veto of a 55-and-out pension plan.

They were upset when the Milliken-appointed State Officers Compensation Commission froze their salaries at $17,000 for two years.

But when he blocked the move to reduce the pension eligibility from 60 to 55 years and paired it with an economy campaign in state government — well...

Senator Garland Lane (D-Flint), a 25-year legislative veteran, tried to get a two-thirds vote to reject the commission report and toss the question of compensation into the courts.

Lane had no hope it would happen, but it expressed the feeling of a man who felt he had been bruised once too often.

Now comes Senator Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood) with a list of 74 executive office salaries ranging from $18,532 to $36,441 a year and the argument that a legislator is worth the least of these.

"When they have 10 chiefs for every Indian, that's not economy," Mack said. "All they do is fabricate red tape and shuffle papers."

"They create confusion for the local units of government that have to depend on state regulations to do their business."

"Everyone points their finger at the legislature. Let us point the finger at the executive office. I personally think the departments have too many people."

"The governor said he was going to cut his staff by one-third to save money and make for more efficiency. Now I understand that those people are merely being transferred to other agencies."

"That's not saving money. And when an appointments secretary gets $18,532 a year, that's not economy, either." William Hettiger, director of the department of administration and Milliken's top staff man, quickly defended Milliken's staffers and their salaries.

"The salaries in the executive office compare quite unfavorably with executive office salaries in other states," Hettiger said.

The list, which Mack had printed in the Senate Journal, has been making the rounds of legislative offices for days.

It shows that Paul Wilden, assistant budget director, receives $36,441 and Glen S. Allen Jr., legal chief and No. 1 lobbyist, receives $33,759 and Richard Beers, director of the commission on higher education, $38,862 — as the three highest on the list.

The salaries range down to $18,532 a year for some of the assistants. Mack's list does not cover others on the executive office staff who make less than $700 every two weeks.

Mack was angry over the $21,100 salary of Mrs. Joyce Braithwaite, the highest-ranking woman in the office. She processes appointments to be made by the governor among other duties.

Mack had no trouble getting the salaries printed in the Senate Journal but there weren't enough votes to reject the commission on higher education, $38,862 as the three highest on the list.

Republicans generally oppose the move against the compensation and most disagreed with the commission report, but there were enough votes to print Mack's list.

Allen tried to take the bite out of Milliken's veto by urging him to sign the new snowmobile regulation bill, a popular item in the legislature. He signed it over the objection of every safety advisor in state government.

But senators have long memories on such issues and Lane and Mack are members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which will get an early crack at Milliken's budget.

It could be the first veto with timed-release, like those headache pills, which will keep working for months.

Following is the detailed list of 77 employees in Governor Milliken's office who have a bi-weekly rate in excess of $700 for the pay period ending Aug. 12, 1972, including a job description and annual compensation. Those without job descriptions are considered "unclassified" and, according to an area legislator, serve at the pleasure of the governor, who solely can determine their duties.

Another opinion

Voter apathy proves difficult to oppose

Recent suggestions on increasing the number of registered voters in the United States are prompted by the fact that only 56 per cent of the estimated potential voters, in numbers 77.7 million, went to the polls last Nov. 7.

An argument has always raged whether the small number of voters is caused by personal apathy or because the registration process is to blame.

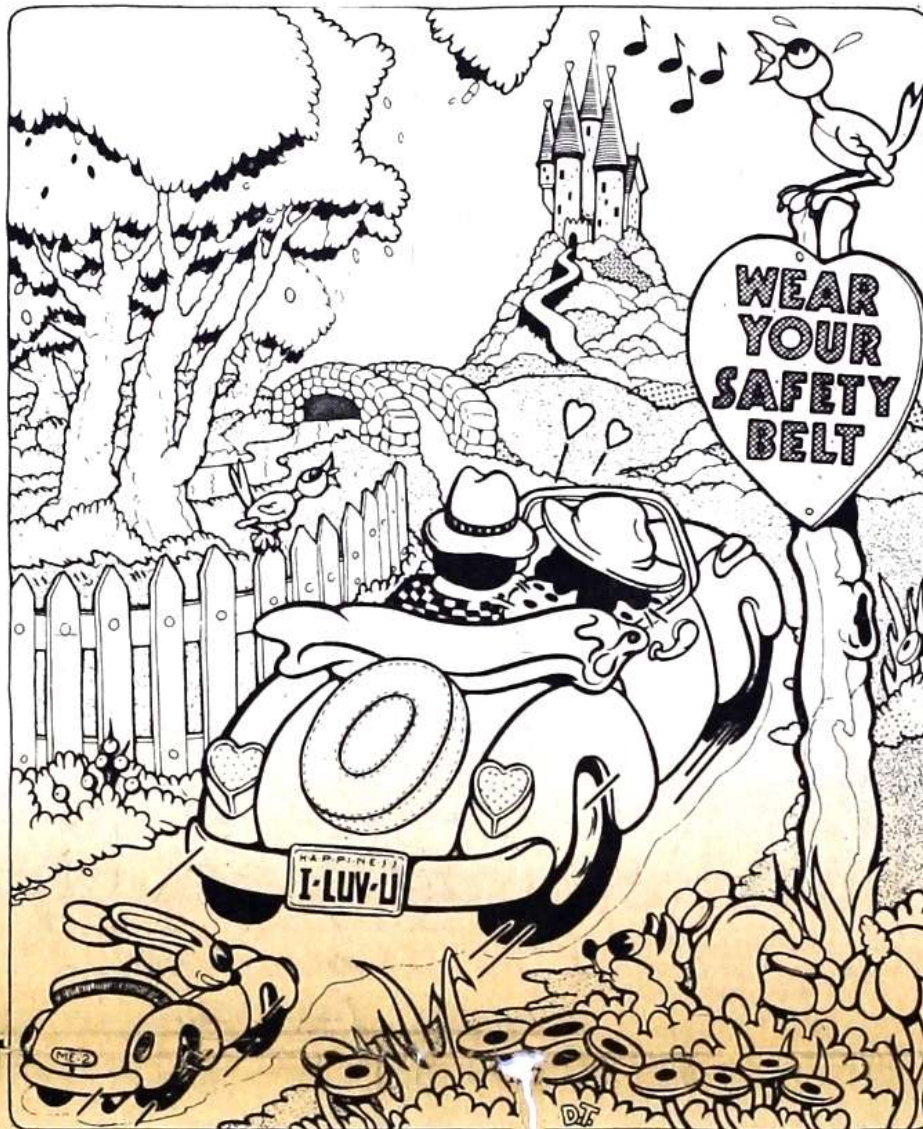

In Michigan, Richard Austin, secretary of state, suggested earlier this year that when file for their automobile or truck license tags they could be also registered to vote. That would be the act of the legislature or even amending the State Constitution.

One difficulty that comes to mind is that many noncitizens who live in our state drive vehicles.

Senator Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) would have the Federal Government subsidize registration for voting. Another attempt is being made to legislate a method by which a person could register by postcard and not appear in person before his township or city clerk.

Last summer and fall both national parties sought to register an estimated 14 million new and mostly young voters. Less than a million registered. Apathy must be the reason.

State aid to education is necessary tool

By WILLIAM FAUST, State Senator, 13th District

Practically every school district in Michigan would face a financial crisis if Michigan failed to provide state aid.

Today, education is a major priority in the state budget, representing more than 50 per cent of all state expenditures.

For these reasons, Michigan taxpayers can easily understand why the legislature gives so much consideration annually to proposed educational appropriations — especially the formula under which state aid is distributed to local school districts.

The Michigan legislature is reviewing two proposed state aid budgets for the 1973-74 fiscal year. Passage of either proposal would mean that all school districts in my area (13th State Senatorial District) would have a larger total amount of money to spend per pupil than they do now.

One of the bills, introduced by Senator James Gray (D-Warren) and co-sponsored by eleven senators including myself, would result in a larger total per pupil allowance for each district in my area than the other proposed state aid bill, which was introduced by Senator Gilbert Bursley (R-Ann Arbor).

Senator Gray's bill (SB 80) would cost $1.686 billion in net state aid ... or $575 million more than last year ... and would provide $466 million more than the Bursley bill (SB 110).

Under SB 80, the basic formula would yield $50 for each of the first 15 mills in combined state and local money, $30 for mills between 15 and 20.1, $25 for mills between 20 and 25.1 and $20 for mills levied beyond 25.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles, written by Senator William Faust (D-13th District) on state aid to education proposals for the 1973-1974 fiscal year.

According to Senator Gray, it would treat every taxpayer alike no matter what school district he is from. The first 15 mills would provide $750 per student on a statewide average and the equalization of mills 15 through 20 at $30 per mill would provide a total of $900 per student.

Under SB 110, each school district is guaranteed in combined state membership aid and locally-raised revenue a total per pupil amount of $38 for each mill levied up to 25 mills in 1973-74 and $39 for each mill levied up to 25 mills in 1974-75.

Millage levied in excess of these levels will bring in only the amount of local revenue determined by the district's state equalized valuation.

For 1975-76, $40 per pupil per mill will be guaranteed without limitation on the amount of millage covered.

Secondly, Bursley's bill provides that all districts levying 18 or more mills are guaranteed no reduction in combined state-local revenue.

Finally, districts levying less than 18 mills and scheduled to receive a reduction in state aid will have the reduction phased in over a three-year period.

Summing up his proposed state aid formula, Bursley says SB 110 provides a three-year phase in of the guaranteed tax yield principle of state school aid distribution.

The effect of each bill on school districts in my area is summarized on the table below.

District	Local Millage	State-Local 72-73 Total	S.B. 110 73-74 Total	S.B. 80 73-74 Total
Cherry Hill	24,650	$773	$871	$1,017
Dearborn Hgts. No. 7	27,650	$789	$894	$1,079
Garden City	30,000	$819	$925	$1,125
Inkster City	25,650	$768	$872	$1,039
Romulus	27,650	$954	$997	$1,079
Taylor	31,650	$912	$1,011	$1,159
Wayne Westland	36,600	$966	$1,073	$1,275
Huron	20,650	$725	$784	$917
Van Buren	23,650	$841	$881	$992
Lincoln	18,720	$717	$711	$861
Willow Run	33,720	$1,024	$1,105	$1,199

In addition to the bills proposed by senators Gray and Bursley, the legislature this year is also expected to consider a proposal submitted by House Speaker William Ryan (D-Detroit).

Rep. Ryan seeks a constitutional amendment to even up the differentials between school districts in terms of gross operating funds.

To obtain such a constitutional revision, he hopes that a two-thirds vote in both houses can be obtained by March 15 so as to permit a referendum at the polls on May 15.

Ryan believes that local yields must be evened up before "a rational approach to school financing can be developed."

Once the legislature has evened up the differentials between school districts in terms of gross operating funds, it can then develop a rational formula which, ideally, would "ascribe sufficient weight to relevant educational criteria to provide quality education for all."

To accomplish the evening up of local yields, Ryan proposes —that property taxes for counties and townships be limited to 13 mills;

—that property taxes for school operations be limited to an additional 13 mills;

—the legislature establish a program of general state taxation and a method of distributing funds for the support of elementary and secondary public schools (For individuals, revenue will be made up through the income tax and a profits and payroll tax would be levied on business to make up the revenues lost by a reduction in the property tax.);

—that a provision be made for renters' relief from property tax;

—additional property tax relief for senior citizens, veterans, the blind and others who now qualify for homestead exemptions;

—that high spending districts be able to petition the state to continue a portion of their reduced millage for the time necessary to make the transition that will enable them to meet other districts.

Chamber chatter

Is anyone selling Romulus?

By DELORES RISTOW, Executive Secretary, Romulus Chamber of Commerce

Romulus has many things to offer, but is anybody selling the benefits of Romulus? The Romulus-Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce wants to know the answer.

Richard C. Enright, president of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, and other state chamber officials, many concerned Michigan residents and business people, last Wednesday attended a conference entitled "Expansion Day in Michigan."

The conference was sponsored by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and the University of Michigan. Its theme was, "How to retain industry currently doing business in Michigan," as well as, "How to attract new business and industry to Michigan."

Gov. William G. Milliken and former governor of Ohio, James A. Rhodes, were on hand to address the conference and explain the formation and efforts of the office of economic expansion.

Milliken stressed the importance of action steps to encourage business expansion in Michigan.

Rhodes spoke to the audience at the afternoon session on "Motivating Job Procedures," stating, "It will take a real effort on the part of all concerned to create a climate which will result in a growth economy in the state of Michigan."

Chamber president Enright stated, "I am in full agreement with Milliken and Rhodes that all public officials must demonstrate a positive posture toward business and industry."

The Romulus chamber, under Enright's direction in carrying these ideas to the community level, feels the citizens of Romulus should be asking the question, "What is our city government doing to encourage business and industry to come to Romulus?"

The chamber hopes at the same time to point out that it is not a question of Democrat or Republican, business or labor, but rather people and jobs. Putting clearly in focus that only expansion of business and industry can create jobs and jobs will solve most of the social problems confronting our community as well as the state and the nation.

The Romulus chamber has economic expansion as one of its 1973 priorities. Since the chamber's three-series meeting on Jan. 23, the chamber's board of directors have been viewing economic expansion with a critical eye and will be strongly addressing themselves to this very problem here in Romulus during the months ahead.

I have been watching very closely past city government actions in relationship to prospective business developers coming to Romulus and will strongly support efforts for the much needed improvement in this phase of economic expansion.

Enright is also vice president of industrial relations and personnel at Kerr Manufacturing Co., one of the five largest companies in Romulus.

New bus service preferred by parent

To the editor:

I have been disappointed in the coverage in the Belleville Enterprise of the Van Buren school board - Michigan School Bus Service case.

When it has been mentioned, details have been few and it sounds as though it were just another labor dispute.

It is really much more, for the safety of our children is involved.

Michigan School Bus Service has given us the best transportation we have ever had. The buses are now equipped with radios, insuring instant communication with the dispatcher.

Daily bus inspections are required. Schedules are met and late buses have become rare.

No longer can drivers with the longest service choose a favorite bus and route. This, of course, caused the newest buses to be used always for the shortest, easiest trips.

The new bus service has employed few of the former drivers. These are the people who are trying to force us to give up this new service.

The former drivers — even those with poor records — were encouraged to try to qualify to drive for Michigan School Bus

Veterans to seek benefits

Veterans seeking benefits can reduce the waiting time for such payments to begin if they take the time to properly fill out the application forms.

A large number of veterans submit applications without attaching necessary papers, said a VA official. One of the most important of these is the service record of the veteran, known as the DD-214.

From this form the dates of service as well as other pertinent information is obtained by the VA. Eligibility for many benefits is dependent upon the length of service.

The original discharge paper, also is necessary, but most veterans do submit this document.

A VA director said that veterans organizations and service officers often submit applications or aid the veteran in filling out his own but that in many cases even these organizations fail to submit the necessary papers.

Failure to submit all of the requested material delays the application as the regional office must request the additional information prior to awarding certificates of eligibility or making determinations for other benefits.

Hints on using spices and herbs

Do you know the difference between spices and herbs?

Both come from aromatic plants, explains Marilyn Mook, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. Herbs are the leaves or flowers and spices are roots, bark, stems, buds, seeds or fruit.

Both herbs and spices lose their aroma and flavor when subjected to moisture and heat, so Miss Mook advises storing them in airtight containers in a cool, dry place away from strong light. They may be handy on the back of the range, but they will keep better in the cupboard, she cautions.

Spices lose both aroma and flavor with age, however, so buying in small quantities and discarding old ones is recommended. Any spice or herb over a year old is questionable, Miss Mook notes. To test a spice or herb for freshness, rub some between your palms, she suggests, and if there is no aroma, it is time to renew your supply.

Fresh herbs are most aromatic than dried ones, she notes. A rule of thumb is to use about half as much of a dried herb as a fresh one and to use dried herbs in cold dishes only if they have been cooked or soaked.

In most dishes, Miss Mook says, herbs and spices should be used to aid and enhance the natural flavors, never to cover up a flavor. Exceptions include chili and gingerbread, in which the spice flavors dominate.

When experimenting with herbs or spices, Miss Mook suggests starting with one fourth teaspoon for each pound of meat or pint of sauce. With very strong spices more sparing use is recommended. With mild spices and herbs, you can be more adventurous.

Being too adventurous and combining too many herbs and spices in one dish or too many spiced dishes into one meal can cause a culinary catastrophe, Miss Mook points out.

"Use herbs and spices to liven drab meals," she suggests, "but unless you're sure of your family's tastes, follow established recipes and experiment carefully."

After-school treat: Butterscotch Bars

Date Bran Butterscotch Bars

1/2 cup chopped dates
1/3 cup water
1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2/3 cup shortening
1 egg
1 package (3-3-4 oz.) butterscotch instant pudding and pie filling
1/2 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup bran flakes with sugar-coated raisins
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Combine dates, water, sugar, and lemon juice in a small saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally until mixture thickens. Cool.

Meanwhile, cream shortening. Add egg and pudding mix. Beat until light and fluffy. Mix flour with soda, salt, and cinnamon. Stir into egg mixture. Add cereal and nuts and mix until well blended. Spread half of the pudding mixture in the bottom of a greased 8-inch square pan. Cover with date mixture. Top with remaining pudding mixture; spread evenly over surface. Bake at 375 degrees for about 25 minutes, or until nicely brown. Cool and cut into 12 portions. Serve topped with whipped cream, ice cream, or prepared whipped topping, if desired.

Times have changed — or have they? Remember coming in after school and finding a tall glass of milk and a platterful of something good to nibble on set out on the counter top? Well, mothers are still doing this, although their recipes have changed slightly. This recipe for Date Bran Butterscotch Bars, a version of the old-time favorite date bars, has been adapted to improve the flavor and texture, but the taste is every bit as savory and mouth-watering as it ever was!

Preparation? Elementary! Just a package of Jell-O Butterscotch Instant Pudding and Pie Filling, chopped dates, Post Raisin Bran, plus a few basic kitchen cupboard ingredients are combined to make these fabulous treats.

They're great as an after-school munch-on. However, if you're puzzled by tonight's dessert, try spooning Dream Whip Whipped Topping Mix or ice cream over the layered date nut bars. And don't forget a platterful for the baby-sitter, please! Lucky is the child whose mother remembers the delicate taste of these old-fashioned treats, for they truly are the tastiest morsels to be eaten, bar none!

HUNGRY-STUDENT SNACK — As your children hurry in after school on these blustery winter days, have something special in the line of snacking to soothe those hungry tummies. Post Raisin Bran and Butterscotch Jell-O Instant Pudding combine to make just such a goodie. The twosome enhance the flavor and texture of Date Bran Butterscotch Bars, a tasty version of the old-fashioned recipe for date bars. (Courtesy Post Raisin Bran.)

At February meeting

Home Arts members learn paper toleing

Dorothy Florian, president, conducted the February 12 meeting of the Home Arts Club in the home economics room of North Junior High School. Twenty-four members responded to roll call by secretary Audrey Tabor with five guests being introduced: Cecelia Rossi, Mary Loria, Pam Miland, Evelyn Giblin, and Mrs. George Giblin.

Plans for the pending spring banquet were discussed with Leuthauser's in Saline reserved for the May 14 event. A buffet dinner will be served at 7 p.m. following a 6:30 social hour.

Also announced were the dates for the Belleville Community Players latest presentation, "The Gazebo", which will take place at the Belleville High auditorium March 2, 9 and 10. Several members of the Home Arts Club — Charlotte King, Sharon Matthews, Dorothy Florian — and their husbands are actively involved.

Members were reminded the March 12 meeting will be held at South Junior High when "Everything you wanted to know about cars but were afraid to ask" will be the theme for the evening. Richard Kiessel, shop teacher, will be guest speaker.

Following adjournment, Bev Sparrow, program chairman, presented Mrs. Mae Watts, who gave a demonstration of china painting and then instructed the group in paper toleing — a delicate process of three-dimensional picture-making.

Using a Valentine theme, hostesses for the evening — Beverly Farrer, Sharon Richendollar, Beverly Eichold, and Elaine Habel — served dessert, tea and coffee. Centering the red and white Valentine table cloth was an arrangement of red carnations and white mums surrounded by red doilie hearts.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

There have been many social upheavals in recent years. In the process, an indisputable majority of our people have been subjected to indecencies and insults to their sensitivities. Surprisingly, obscenities have even been successfully defended legally to protect smut, minded publisher profiteers. The majority of our people condemn pagan pornography. However, only a minority within that majority have been clamorous and voluble in their opposition. For the most part, the majority has been a silent majority. Yet it is known the silent majority agrees with every great religion in the world and frowns on the sleazy minorities who profit from anti-social sordid depravation. UNTIL AND UNLESS the law is changed, the majority NOW have an opportunity to actively join the legions for decency. If you receive smut mail, report it to your postmaster and ask to sign a special form that will legally prohibit further mail of that type being mailed to your home. Dealers in smut MUST honor your request for discontinuance or face prosecution!

GOLDEN YEAR COUPLE — Mr. and Mrs. Horace Barrett of 48460 Ellen Street, Belleville, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, March 4, with an open house from one to five in the afternoon. The Barretts were married in Ann Arbor, March 5, 1923, and lived on the Eava Farley Farm on Eight Mile Road prior to moving to Belleville in 1941. Mr. Barrett is a retired building contractor.

Grandmother shower fetes Mrs. Fulton

Mrs. Betty Fulton of Martinsville Rd. was a very surprised guest of honor at a "grandma-to-be" baby shower held at the home of Irene Smolen on Frett Rd., Monday, February 12. The mother-to-be is Mrs. Alex (Sandy) Love of Blackwood, New Jersey.

The gifts from relatives and friends were opened and admired and will later be taken to the new mother after the little one is here.

New laundry saves steps

Laundries needn't be banished to a far corner of basement or garage, as they don't take up much space.

In a new home or remodeling, the washer and dryer can be combined readily with other functions for step-saving convenience, even though they must be near plumbing and power.

The master bath is a suitable site for the laundry, as this is where most dirty clothes accumulate.

If there's no space in the bath, even for stackable units, perhaps a hall closet or guest room backs up to the bathroom wall. Folding louver wood doors will hide the installation from view.

The end of a wide hallway or part of a large family room can be framed in with 2x4-inch western wood to create a laundry-sewing-hobby room, where work can be left out between sessions.

Haggerty Scouts have crocheting, sewing on agenda

Girl Scout Troop 668 of Haggerty School is busy with its annual cookie sale which is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Annette Curtis of Hannan Road, Romulus. And in keeping with their sales prowess, the girls were on hand February 16 to sell balloons at the P.T.O. Carnival at their school.

Another recent project was making Valentine favors to decorate the trays of patients at Belleville Community Hospital. The little Valentine dolls were fashioned of red construction paper, pipe cleaners, egg carton sections, and paper doilies.

The troop also made a large Valentine card of red poster board and paper doilies for their friends at the Van Buren Convalescent Center.

Currently the Scouts are being taught crocheting by Mrs. Linda Mason and Mrs. Agnes Bankert at their troop meetings. They are also learning sewing in the homes of Mrs. Annette Curtis and Mrs. Grieves.

Past social events for the girls included a trip to the Shrine Circus February 10.

And what about jet-lag? Everyone travels these days. We're constantly off to more exotic corners of the world, and soon maybe the moon. One of the frequent problems is getting your body to adjust to abrupt time changes, and the various types of food we all insist on trying. Well, how would you feel if your stomach ignored your feelings and let you suffer while it continued shoveling in more tacos, moussaka, roast suckling pig, hot tamales ... The solution: Chooz, a gentle effective chewing gum antacid that acts quickly and keeps you on the move. And the moral: Be fair to your stomach and it will be fair to you.

All Around the Town

...with Lee

BIRTHDAY TIME in and around Belleville might be an appropriate title for this week's column since that was the gist of the news phoned or sent in to us this past week.

Brian has Valentine birthday

Starting with the youngest in the crowd, we give the hats-off salute to young Master Brian Farrer who was a Valentine to his mom and dad just three years ago.

And last Wednesday, Mrs. Farrer (Beverly) had a little luncheon with birthday cake and ice cream in honor of the occasion. Guesting at the Farrer's Edgemont Street home were Audrey Tabor, her daughter Kelly, and her young charge, Joel Duman; and Eula Haft and her little grandson, Andy Hyde.

Kevin marks 10th year

MARKING HIS 10th birthday February 3 was Kevin Elliott, son of the Joseph Elliotts of Robson Road. Eleven neighborhood friends and classmates from Quirk School joined Kevin for the celebration which was topped off with traditional birthday fare.

The highlight of the two thirty party was the appearance of "Mazda, the Magician" (Kevin's grandfather, Fred Sass, incognito). Several lively games helped make the afternoon a fun-occasion.

Wife pulls a surprise

THEN THERE was the birthday of former Haggerty Roader, Ed Hudge, marked at his Ann Arbor home recently. Planned as a surprise by his wife, Mary Anne, the party included mostly friends and relatives from this area — the A.R. Lieblers, Ron and Jan Sierota, Art and Joy Hill, the Clyde Batzers, the Bill and Tom Hedges, Gerry and Helen Miller, and the Bert Smiths — as well as the Bob Pollocks of Ann Arbor.

Not mentioning 'age' at this stage of the game, Ed was welcomed "into the club" by the majority of the guests who brought along several clever gag gifts.

Games and a buffet lunch completed the party plans.

Surprise party is just that!

AND STILL ANOTHER natal date was reported — that of Roger Allyn who thought he was attending a surprise party for his brother-in-law, Paul Dietz whose birth date is two days prior to his.

It was on that pretext Aileen got her hubby to the Livonia home of her parents, the Howard Dietzs, where all the party preparations were ready and waiting.

Arriving for the eight o'clock dinner party were Bob and Pat Shayne, who were up from Columbus, Ohio; Rod and Carol Allyn from Adrian; Larry and Norma McClure of Redford; Tom and Bethann Swan of Dearborn Heights; Al and Edie Wesson, the Howard Dietzs and Paul, all of Livonia; and Jack and Thelma Johnson and Gene and Pauline Mann from Belleville.

Have fun getting into shape

By HENRY CANTIN

Want to have fun while getting into shape? Then join up with the physical fitness program being held three nights a week at the Belleville Senior High School gymnasium under the sponsorship of the Van Buren Township Park and Recreation Department.

The physical fitness program, initiated on an expanded basis last year stresses and emphasizes the fun aspects of keeping in shape.

The classes, which are conducted from 7 to 9 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, are under the direction of Ben Robertson, a former YMCA director and currently the industrial coordinator for Van Buren Township.

The classes which run for 16 weeks, are a year-round program. The present enrollment is between 65 and 70 participants, Robertson said and "is growing."

This summer, a morning class is to be started on a five-day basis. Sessions are to begin at 6 a.m.

Robertson said that there are two ways to enroll: register at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd., or at classtime at the high school gym. The cost is $3.

"If you are sincerely interested in strengthening your heart, losing weight, toning muscles, redistributing weight, improving your stamina for every day activities and generally enjoying life, join the physical fitness program and have fun getting into shape," Robertson said.

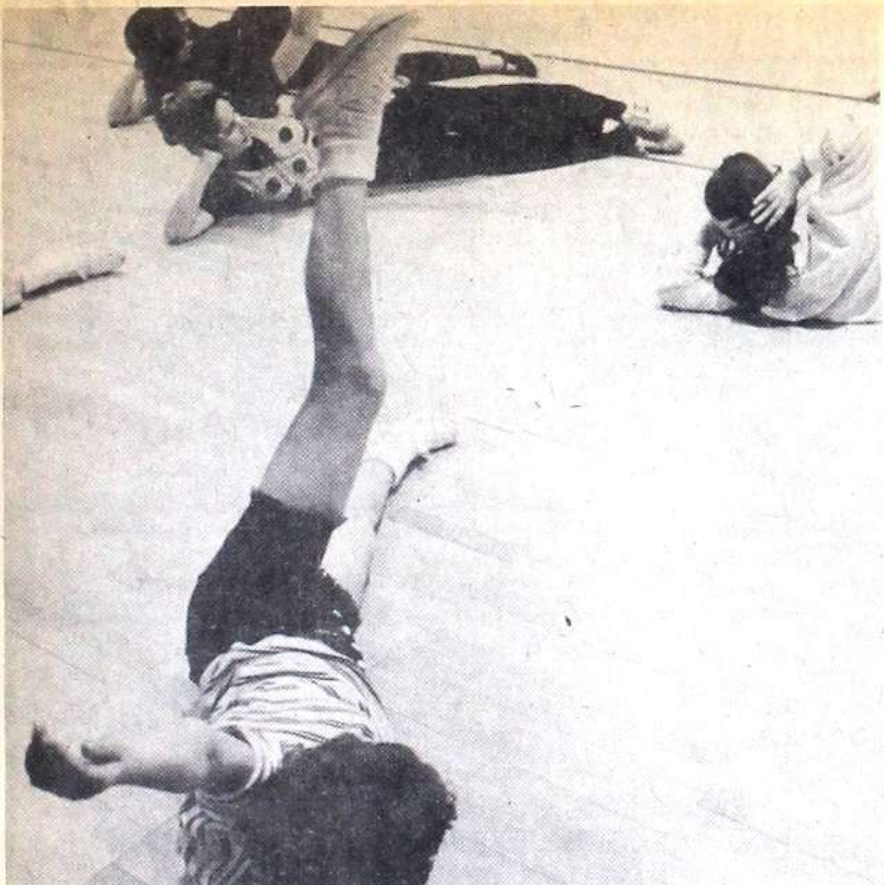

When enrolling into the program, interviews are conducted and forms are filled out. A basic test is then administered to determine the fitness of the enrollee.

The tests are held to determine pulse rate, with resting pulse rates at varying periods of rest during the testing program.

On the basis of the interviews and preliminary physical tests, a program is mapped out for the participant and he is put on an individual program consisting of jogging, exercise and recreational activities.

Robertson said that an additional physical fitness programs will be started this summer including tennis, cross-country hiking, bicycling and golf.

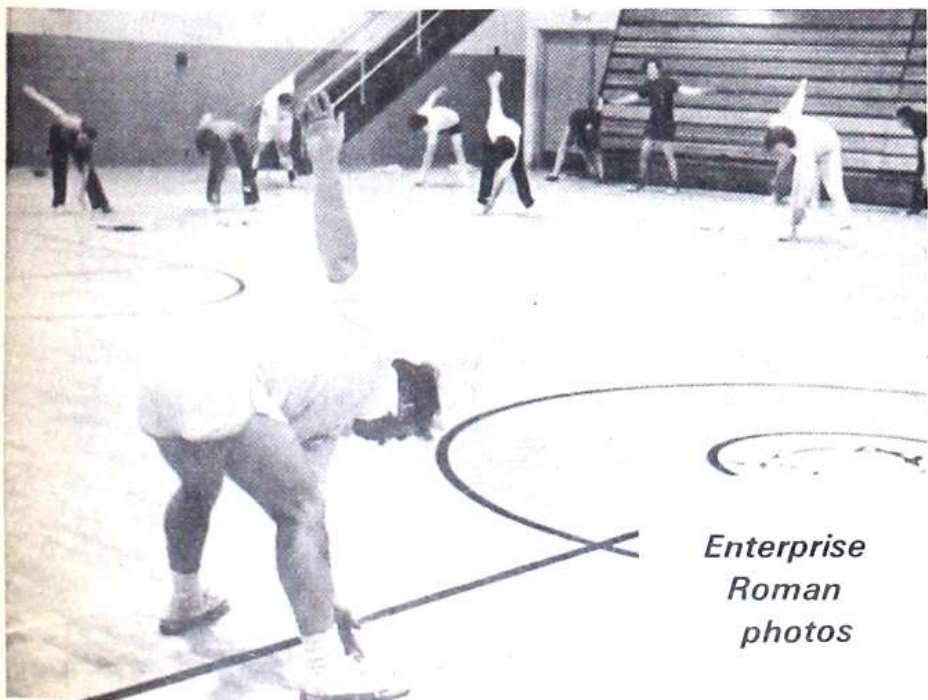

For further information contact Robertson at the township hall, 699-2001.

Airman First Class Orren M. Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester O. Walters, 13125 Edgedale Dr., Belleville, has graduated with honors at Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force precision measuring equipment specialist course.

Airman Walters, who trained to repair, calibrate and certify precision measuring equipment, is being assigned to Griffiss AFB, N.Y.

A 1967 graduate of Belleville High School, the airman attended the University of Michigan and the University of Florida. His wife is the former Johanne C. Cash.

How NBD helped Art Garlick feather his nest.

Arthur Garlick and National Bank of Detroit have been in the poultry business since 1967.

That's when Art decided to go into the egg business in a big way.

He started from scratch with the help of a loan from our Belleville branch. And because Art and Tom Meeker, our Community Loan Officer in Belleville, both believe that nothing succeeds like success, the henery kept growing.

With encouragement and financial assistance from NBD, Art has built up a flourishing business.

Mr. Garlick also finds time to be bachelor father to a brood of disadvantaged children. He personally backs several "special ed" programs, and has seen some of their graduates all the way through college.

And all of the kids in the Belleville area look forward to spring and summer holidays, when Art opens his arms and farm to them.

All in all, the kids and Tom Meeker agree to a man — Art Garlick is one good egg.

THE KING AND QUEEN — William Hollister and Miss Patty Stutz, residents at the Van Buren Convalescent Center, 4401 Willow Run Expressway, Van Buren Township, were crowned "King and Queen" at a Valentine party held at the center. The Altar Society of St. Anthony Church in Belleville, sponsored the party and a bingo party. Three women and three men competed for the title of king and queen.

Belleville schools name spell champions

Grade champions in the initial spelldown in a metropolitan spelling bee have been determined at two Belleville schools.

Fifth and sixth grade champions were crowned at Rawsonville and Elwell schools.

Elree Jones was the sixth grade winner and Troy Terwilliger was the fifth grade victor at Rawsonville.

Elree, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones of 2231 Shelly, Ypsilanti, won by spelling the words "opposite" and "tobacco."

Troy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Terwilliger of 13201 Lakeview Drive, Belleville, won by spelling the word "tunnel."

Linda Bonanni was the sixth grade champion and Barbara Beegle was the winner in the fifth grade competition at Elwell.

Linda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bonanni of 20415 Wilmet, Belleville, won by spelling the word "lying."

Barbara, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Beegle of 20235 Sumpter Road, Belleville, won by spelling the word "shelter."

With their grade victories the champions advanced to the competition that will decide the school champions.

Trade classes to begin for adults in township

The Van Buren school board's trade and industry adult education classes will begin at 7 p.m. Monday.

All classes with the exception of machine shop will be held at the Vocational Building, 414 Sumpter Road. The machine shop classes will be held at Belleville High School.

Any resident of the Van Buren School District not currently enrolled in the regular day school program may enroll in the adult education program, regardless of age, previous schooling, or experience.

Each student enrolled will pay a $15 fee to cover the cost of materials and other expenses.

Senior citizens will be allowed to take the classes free of charge providing there are enough paying students to meet expenses. A minimum of 12 students must be enrolled for a class to be held.

Classes will be held in auto mechanics, auto body repair, welding and machine shop. Further information may be obtained by contacting Bill Nagy at 697-0700.

'Gazebo' cast busy with play

By DOROTHY FLORIAN

The Belleville Community Players' (BCP) latest production, "The Gazebo," is entering the smoothing-out stage.

With just two weeks left before opening night, everyone is busy with all the little details without which the production could not go on. The time between the first rehearsal and opening night seems to fly too fast, but, almost magically, everything falls into place.

Some of the people who, while doing what comes naturally in their everyday lives, are busy learning lines for "The Gazebo."

They are Bill Loyd, Dorothy Florian and Maxie Jo Hasse. Bill Loyd portrays Harlowe Edison, an assistant district attorney in the play.

Bill has to his acting credit the lead of "King of Kings" and roles in "Dobie Gillis" and "Pirates of Penzance."

He then entered the radio media as a disc jockey and newscaster.

At present, Bill teaches at South Junior High and is a busy director of the Van Buren Recreation Association.

Playing the role of Mrs. Chandler is another theater buff, Dorothy Florian, a real estate broker from 9 to 5.

She too has a theater background, having minored in speech and drama at Mercy College in Detroit.

Dorothy's onstage work at Mercy was predominantly in the chorus of such musicals as "Oklahoma," "Bohemian Girl," "Kiss Me Kate" and "Brigadoon."

She has worked in several dramas, concentrating on backstage work, mainly make-up.

When the BCP was formed, Dorothy worked backstage in "Rest Assured" and acted in "Never Too Late" and "Portrait of Jennie."

Another budding actress is Maxie Jo Hasse, who has the role of the maid, Matilda, and sets the mystery's pace with her blood curdling screams.

Maxie's love is dancing, having studied ballet at the Bach Conservatory of Music and toured with the International Institute of Folk Dancing.

At present, Maxie is teaching modern and creative dancing through the recreation program.

Her stage credits are "Stage Door," "Sleeping Beauty" and "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Also a BCP charter member, Maxie has had roles in their productions of "Rest Assured," "Pillow Talk" and "Portrait of Jennie."

She also produced "Portrait."

The director of "The Gazebo," Jean Daniels, is another theater buff. Jean came to the BCP from the Nankin Mills Players and has quite a trail of theatrical experience.

In the NMP she had the lead in "Janus," "The Marriage-Go-Round," "Laura" and "Pillow Talk."

Jean's supporting roles were in "Never Too Late," "Under the Yum-Yum Tree" and "Patterns."

She also directed the Nankin Mills Players production of "Goodbye Charlie."

Since joining the BCP, Jean has directed "Never Too Late" and acted in "Pillow Talk."

The two and a half hours, twice a week spent in rehearsals of "The Gazebo" are rapidly closing in on opening night. With the "hilarious" lines and even funnier ad-libs, the BCP can hardly wait to share its fun with theater-goers on March 2, 9 and 10.

Curtain time for this two-act mystery comedy is 8:30 p.m. in the Belleville High School auditorium. Tickets at $1.50 may be purchased at the door.

16 police officers patrol city

Police protection and law enforcement along with its related services for the residents of the City of Romulus is under the supervision of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Sixteen police officers assigned to the road patrol division of the sheriff's department operate 24-hour patrols throughout the city under a three-year city-county approved law enforcement contract.

As part of a police-community relations program aimed at letting the residents know these police officers, the Enterprise-Roman is publishing a series of articles on the officers.

31, has been a member of the sheriff's department for the last six years and has worked most of the last two years in Romulus.

Officer Waetjen was raised in Romulus and resides in the City of Wayne. He and his wife, Sharon, are the parents of three sons, aged 10 to 22 months.

He is an avid motorcyclist and outdoorsman, who enjoys canoeing, hiking, fishing and hunting.

Waetjen said he finds work in Romulus exciting and interesting and feels that working in Romulus has been the most challenging aspect of his career as a police officer.

LT. ROBERT M. SULLIVAN

PATROLMAN LARRY WAETJEN

PATROLMAN THOMAS ANDREWS

Lt. Robert M. Sullivan, who was appointed liaison police officer for the City of Romulus on Sept. 1, 1971, is an 18-year veteran of the sheriff's department.

In addition to his duty as liaison officer, Lt. Sullivan is in charge of traffic bureau for the sheriff's department and leads the anti-sniper team.

He has lived the last 20 years in the City of Inkster with his wife, Marian, whom he met in a Navy hospital during World War II where he was recuperating from injuries and she was a Navy nurse.

They are the parents of three children; Bill, 25; Barbara, 22; and Tom, 17; and two grandchildren.

Patrolman Larry Waetjen, 31, who was raised in Detroit where he presently resides, is married. He and his wife, Celia, are the parents of two sons who are 13 years old.

Officer Andrews feels that his career as a police officer has been marked with interest and excitement, from capturing a man attempting to ram a jetliner at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus to pulling a full-grown horse from the roadway by the tail (along with assistance of others) to prevent the horse from being struck by other cars.

He enjoys bowling, basketball and football when he has time. His sons both play football for the McKenzie Raiders in the Detroit Recreation League.

Judge nixes private road maintenance

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles has permanently enjoined Romulus from maintaining Herman Street.

Judge Bowles issued an injunction against the city's maintenance of the private road Feb. 9 in response to a suit filed by local attorney Bill B. Moshier.

Moshier filed suit against the city last August after the city council ordered the maintenance of the private road with city funds.

Judge Bowles ruled against the city, but the council has ordered an appeal of the ruling, even though Mayor Hyle Carmichael is against it.

Recently, the council overrode Carmichael's veto of the order to pay the appeals costs from city funds.

Senior citizens go to circus

The Senior Citizens Gold Card Club of Sumpter recently went to the Shrine Circus in Detroit.

The club chartered a bus for the trip. The bus was filled to capacity.

Rev. C.C. David, president of the club, said another surprise trip is being planned for the near future.

The theme for this program is "to achieve better student understanding of our nation's objective of reaching a new army by July 1."

Students will be picked up from schools by an army recruiter tomorrow for the meeting.

Last week seniors at RHS were busy ordering graduation announcements. There was an assortment of cards and colors.

Included with the selection were name cards, gift cards, thank-you and appreciation cards, memory books and souvenir book covers.

There also were a wide variety of senior keys and other accessories.

The destination of this year's senior class is Spain. The students hope to stay in Torremolinos and Malaga

By SUE MAIANI

The 1973 yearbook princess was crowned.

The court consisted of Mary Bialas, Jo Lynn Goboly, Becky Hebetts, Sue Maiani, Linda Phipps and Denise Sadler. Sonny Elliott judged the girls by their pictures.

Linda Phipps was chosen as the princess.

The senior class has been very busy with the preparation of the senior prom and the senior trip.

To raise money, the seniors sponsored a Valentine telegram service on Valentine's Day. The class also is busy with the pin sale which started this week. Red and White HHS pins are available.

The junior class has been busy preparing for an entertaining junior-senior banquet. This year the banquet will be held on March 13 in Allen Park. Since the juniors are sponsoring the banquet, seniors will be presented a free ticket to the affair. Juniors and seniors should sign up in the office for a reservation.

The Varsity Club has started a fund-raising project that has been going on "great" since last week. Under the direction of Ron Smith, the club has been selling cushions with assorted sayings on them. Money will be used for club activities for the rest of the school year.

Last week the Huron Board of Education met with student representatives to discuss problems. Curriculum, lunch programs, teachers, vandalism and class trips were discussed.

The cost of $230 per senior includes air fare, hotel expenses, two meals a day and welcoming and going away parties.

To help them finance the trip the seniors are selling chocolates. Each box sells for $1 and 60 cents of each dollar goes into that senior's personal trip fund.

OUR HEATERS ARE ALWAYS ON

In home, business

OEP offers tips to cut energy bill

CLOSE DRAPES—A closed fabric drapery at a window is, by and large, an average of the temperatures on its two sides. In cold weather, when the window glass is chilled, a closed drapery will therefore, reduce the radiative heat loss of people sitting near a window, enough to improve their thermal comfort appreciably. Most draperies are not fitted tightly to the window, and room air can move quite freely into and out of the space behind the drapery. Still there is more comfort near a window when drapes are closed.

You can help your nation's energy conservation efforts, live comfortably, and save money too.

Each of us can help accomplish these worthwhile ends—on a daily basis in our own homes, and where we work, according to Darrell M. Trent, Acting Director of the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP).

All we need do is practice conservation habits that help save energy.

As our country continues to grow, we must face up to the fact that energy of many kinds is in short supply, Trent said. "It's time to tighten our fuel belt and stop wasting electricity and heat. This in turn saves oil, gas and coal. Save energy, and you save money."

America now consumes about 29 per cent of its energy in industry, 25 per cent in transportation, including getting back forth to work, 21 per cent for residential and commercial purposes, and 25 per cent for utilities.

But the nation can keep warm, get to work, and keep industry humming with much less energy than is now being used.

An OEP energy conservation study shows that there are many ways you can help conserve fuel and electric energy at home, on the road, and on the job.

Here are some:

Weatherstrip and caulk around windows and doors. Properly applied, this can keep out cold air and seal in warm air so effectively that your family's heating bill can be cut 15 to 30 per cent.

It's easy and inexpensive to install weatherstripping at movable joints and to caulk the frames of all windows and doors.

Keep at it until you find that in quite cold weather light but not excessive fog or moisture occurs occasionally on windows on the downwind side.

When that point is reached you will not only have accomplished substantial heat savings but will have provided about the proper humidity conditions for your comfort.

Install storm windows or insulated glass to cut in half the heat that is needlessly lost through the windows in your house.

This extra window investment will pay for itself within 10 years, and thereafter return you an annual dividend of 13 to 18 per cent or more in the areas of the United States where the average winter temperature is lower than 45 degrees.

Increase insulation in your attics and walls when possible. You cannot afford to have less than the equivalent of six inches of good thermal insulation over your ceiling.

Install wood sash windows whenever possible. Wood is a poor conductor of heat and moisture and therefore an excellent natural insulator. In comparative tests with other sash and frame materials, wood rated a much better insulator than metal.

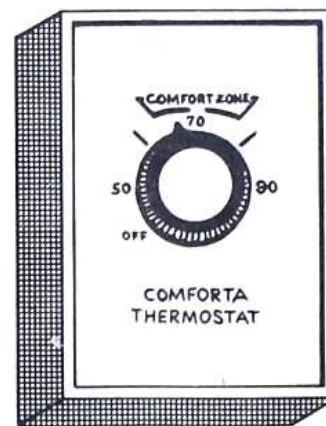

In tests with an outdoor temperature of 20 degrees; interior wood sash registered a warm 59 degrees; metal, a chilly 32 degrees.

A costly 22 per cent more heat was lost through metal windows with an 80 per cent glass area than through wood sash windows of the same size.

Also, weatherstripped wood windows with insulating glass stayed free of condensation in outdoor temperatures of 30 degrees below zero, while moisture formed on metal sash windows in temperatures of 20 degrees above.

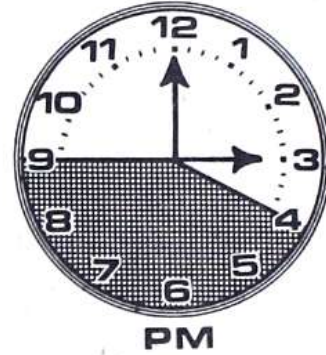

Keep your heating and air conditioning equipment in top operating efficiency. Vacuum dust and lint from air intake registers. Replace your

To conserve fuel

Flip light switch off

Maybe the fuel shortage hasn't hit you yet—but that doesn't mean you can't hit back.

Every homeowner, apartment dweller and mobile home resident has a role in conserving fuel, according to Bob Maddex, agricultural engineering specialist at Michigan State University.

You can start by flipping that light switch—off.

"Use all the light you need," Maddex said, "but turn off the lights you're not using and the TV you're not watching."

Reduce bulb size in hallways and closets and yard lights where bright light for reading or other close work is not needed, he said.

"If you're going to leave a light on while you're away, replace that 100-watt bulb with a 60-watt one and get an automatic control that will turn the light on at dark and turn it off around your usual bedtime."

You'll use less electricity than if you leave a light burning constantly. And someone watching your house will be more likely to think someone is home if lights go on and off rather than burning 24 hours a day.

A drippy hot water faucet you just haven't gotten around to fixing can be costly, Maddex added. Even a slow drip may cost several cents a day; a faster one can make a noticeable increase in your fuel bill.

"Why pay for the water and the energy it takes to heat it only to let it run down the drain?" the specialist said.

You can conserve still more *water and heat by running only as much water as you need.

Frequently defrosting your refrigerator freezer compartment will help it work more efficiently and keep food colder, Maddex said. Except when defrosting, keep the door closed as much as possible to avoid losing the cold air inside.

Avoid too many quick peeks into the oven. Every time you open the door you lose at least 20 percent of the oven's heat.

If you're planning to use the oven to cook the meat for dinner, plan a step further and let the oven cook the other courses, too.

You can cut laundry costs by washing only when you must and by washing full rather than partial loads. If cold water and cold-water detergents can do the job, let them.

Exercise care electricity in 'wetlands'

Be one-handed in the "wetlands."

The "wetlands" are bathrooms, kitchens, and laundries, which have one thing in common—water. And water contributes to three major hazards in the home: slips, scalds and electric shock.

Electricity is likely to be used near water sources; therefore, do not touch such appliances as toasters, mixers, or coffee makers with one hand while you turn on the faucet with the other, warns the Institute for Safer Living.

Take heed of the "tingles." Sometimes, with dry hands and standing on a dry floor, you can feel a slight tingle of electricity when you touch the metal housing of an appliance. That's a tip-off to current leakage.

It may or may not be a hazardous amount, but can you afford to take the chance? Have the questionable device checked by an electrician.

Some persons disconnect an appliance by removing the cord from the appliance itself, instead of from the wall outlet. That's bad, says the Institute, especially in the household wetlands.

When cords for coffee makers or electric shavers are left to dangle from wall outlets, the cords remain energized—and lethal if dropped into a sink filled with water.

Never use a plug-in radio while you're taking a bath or shower (portable battery models are okay). The same thing goes for record players, hair dryers, hot combs, or any other appliances. Exercise care with all electrical appliances in the wetlands.

By ANDY LANG

Balky doors are not confined to those which are difficult to open and close because they stick or bind around the edges.

Some doors open and close quite easily but simply will not stay closed. That's because the latch bolt in the door no longer fits into the strike plate on the door jamb. This misalignment is due to any one of a number of reasons, including the fact that the hinges on the door have come loose and require retightening or resetting. Curiously, the failure of the latch to fit may be because the hinges on the door WERE retightened. In any case, whatever the reason, make sure the door hangs properly before you attempt to do something about lining up the bolt with the strike plate.

Since it is a difficult and almost impossible job to do anything about moving the bolt, which is part of the lock recessed into the front edge of the door, something must be done about the strike plate. And before that can be done, it must be determined whether the plate is too high or too low on the door frame.

Most of the time there will be scratch marks or a worn part on the plate showing where the bolt is hitting it instead of going into the opening. If this is not quickly apparent, close the door slowly while you shine a flashlight into the area to see where the misalignment is. And if that doesn't work, rub some chalk on the end of the bolt, close the door, open it and see where the chalk marks are.

When the bolt fails to fit into the opening by only a tiny fraction of an inch—an eighth or sixteenth of an inch—you may be able to file the metal to make a larger opening to accommodate the bolt. This filing usually can be done more easily if the strike plate is removed by taking out the two screws that hold it in place.

furnace air filters every two to four months or when they become loaded with dust or lint.

Have the heat exchange surfaces of your heating plant cleaned when needed and have the combustion air adjustment checked or improved by service professionals.

In homes and apartments without storm windows, close draperies at night. This results in some deflection of drafts and more comfort. A little also may be saved.

Regardless of where you live and work, turn off electric lights, TV, radio and other electric utilities when they are not needed. Every kilowatt-hour saved is a benefit to you and your country.

Try to avoid prolonged use of major appliances during "peak-use" times—in the early morning and during late afternoon and early evening.

Repair leaking water faucets. A leak of one drop per second adds up to about 650 gallons per year. A leak that fills an ordinary cup in 10 minutes wastes 3,280 gallons per year.

If this is heated water, the loss is very expensive. Leaks also cut or erode faucets and sinks and often cause unsightly sink stains.

Lower the thermostat setting in your house or apartment at night. By reducing the thermostat setting 4 degrees for 8 hours each night, a savings of $1.80 on a $60 monthly heating bill can be achieved.

If you live in a metropolitan area, consider riding a bus rather than a car. It takes up to 5 times as much energy to get a person from home to work in an automobile than it does by bus.

The automobile, with less than 10 per cent energy fuel-use efficiency, is an expensive consumer of energy.

Many of the same points mentioned above to conserve heat loss in winter also apply to air conditioning savings in the summer.

So such measures as weatherstripping and caulking, use of storm windows and insulated glass, and installing overhead and sidewall insulation have year-around energy conservation virtues.

Remember, when you conserve fuel and energy, you help yourself, your community and your country.

Q.—I am a bit confused by something I read in your column and something told me by a remodeling contractor. In reply to a question, you said that it might be a good idea to renew the wood preservative on a fence every few years because "no wood preservative lasts indefinitely." Recently I decided to have an addition put on my house. The contractor said the lumber would contain a wood preservative "that will still be there long after you are gone." What's the story?

A.—In the answer you saw, reference was made to a wood preservative brushed on by the individual home owner. The contractor undoubtedly is talking about pressure-treated wood. This commercial method of impregnating the wood with a preservative does last indefinitely, perhaps 50 years or more. That's the story.

Q.—The lights in our house dim whenever I use the table saw in the workshop in our basement. Is this normal?

A.—It's a sure sign that you should have another electrical circuit installed or the entire wiring system modernized. Better get an electrician.

Q.—I started to make a repair in a plaster wall and found out that the wooden lath in back of it is badly broken. How does one go about fixing this?

A.—Enlarge the area until two studs are exposed. Remove the broken lath and replace it with pieces of lath nailed to the studs. You can then go ahead with the patching.

'ALL-AMERICA DIVER?' — Wayne Memorial's Lance Webber flashes a smile after winning the diving competition at the 11th annual Western Wayne Invitational Saturday. WW swim drama had its suspense

By TOM MOORADIAN

The 11th annual Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Invitational is history.

And Garden City East swimmers replaced Belleville on the WW throne.

But, as in every athletic competition, there are always the trials and tribulations of athletes who, on the verge of victory, suffer heartbreaking losses. Saturday's meet at the packed Cherry Hill pool had its share of such stories.

The ecstasy of victory as personified by the record-setting performances of Garden City East's Dale Swezene and Cherry Hill's Tom O'Hagan and Wayne's superb diver, Lance Webber, were also present.

These are but a few names that will be etched in the record books of the prestigious meet.

But what of the, heart-breaking defeats? One stays clearly in this writer's mind: Cherry Hill's Jim Jedinak, who was the No. 1 seeded swimmer in the 400-yard freestyle didn't finish the finals.

Jedinak, who had the fastest qualifying time (4:13.0), entered the finals as the favored but, after swimming 100 yards pulled up with a severe muscle spasm in the leg.

He limped out of the pool.

"It's one of those unpredictable things," said Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski, "there's nothing you can do about it. You feel sorry for the kid because you know how hard he has tried."

Churchill's excellent freestyler Dale Bryan coasted to the victory in that event, covering the distance in 4:08.8.

The fans who braved the freezing temperatures to witness the meet also got their money's worth.

"I received scores of compliments from the fans, about how well the meet was run, and let me say this that as a coach I haven't been in a better meet with keener competition," Pawloski said.

Jim Dollaway, the high school's athletic director, should be commended for the fine job he did in making the meet a success.

And next year Westland John Glenn will host the 12th annual competition.

Glenn Coach Al Watchel doesn't know what he's getting into.

Before turning our thoughts to the basketball scene, Coach Pawloski has asked us to remind area swimming coaches that the All-Area Swimming & Diving team will be selected on March 19 at 7 p.m.

"We will hold the selection meeting right after the state finals," said Pawloski, "and all coaches who have candidates should attend the meeting."

And now for basketball.

In the decade that I have covered the high school cage scene in these parts, never - and I mean never - had there been so many "barnburners" as there were last Friday night. Take a look at the scores: Wayne 66, Robichaud 64; Livonia Bentley 68, Belleville 66; Oak Park 61, Garden City East 60; Livonia Franklin 59, North Farmington 57; Melvindale 60, Cherry Hill 57.

Boy, there must have been a lot of sleepless coaches Friday night.

One Wayne Memorial High School basketball fan was "certain" that the Zebras would beat Robichaud Friday night. While walking out of the gym she was overheard saying, "We couldn't lose. The Sports Meridian had picked Robichaud to win."

Now that "ain't" nice.

East dethrones champs Belleville finishes 3rd at WW meet

By JIM FREER
Sports Writer

Paced by the stellar efforts of Dale Swezene and Jeff Blanchard, Garden City East captured the team title at the 11th annual Western Wayne Swimming and Diving Championships at Cherry Hill High School Saturday.

Swezene set meet records in winning the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyles and also swam the anchor leg on East's record-setting 400-yard freestyle relay team.

Blanchard set a meet record in winning the 100-yard butterfly and also triumphed in the 100-yard backstroke.

The Western Wayne Meet was sponsored by The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers.

East compiled 67 points in capturing the championship.

Host Cherry Hill was second with 56 points while Wayne Memorial placed third with 34.

Defending champion Belleville finished fourth with 33 points with Livonia

Churchill right behind with 32.

Livonia Churchill right behind with 32.

Livonia Franklin (29), John Glenn (23), and Garden City West (10) grabbed the sixth through eighth places respectively.

In addition to the four marks set by the Panther swimmers, new standards were set by Wayne Memorial's Lance Webber, Belleville's Jeff Liedel, Cherry Hill's Tom O'Hagan, and the Cherry Hill 200-yard medley relay team.

came in fifth in the final of the 200 however, as Churchill's Dale Bryan swam to victory in 1:55.36.

Bryan also finished first in the 400-yard freestyle with a 4:09.12 clocking.

O'Hagan established a new record of 59:69 in a preliminary heat of the 100-yard backstroke. The Cherry Hill swimmer placed fifth behind East's Jeff Blanchard in the final.

O'Hagan swam the leadoff leg on the Spartans' medley team, which won in a record time of 1:47.98.

Bob Bunio, Wayne Beer-bower, and Bob Anderson were the other members of the Cherry Hill relay team.

O'Hagan notched a second victory when he came home first in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:09.38.

Paul Barbu of John Glenn won the 100-yard breaststroke with a clocking of 1:07.92.

Swezene set records as he won the 50-yard freestyle in 22.88 and the 100-yard freestyle in 50.60.

Blanchard, another senior, set a record in the 100-yard butterfly with his winning clocking of 57:30 and then came back to cop the 100-yard backstroke in 59:87.

The outcome of the meet was in doubt before the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Ron Clifton's East team had 53 points while Jerry Pawloski's Cherry Hill swimmers had 48.

The Panthers wrapped up the meet however as Frank Stanislovits, Mark Cooper, Glen Turnbull, and Swezene combined to touch in first with a record clocking of 3:31.38.

Clifton credited his victorious swimmers with "an outstanding effort."

"Swezene and Blanchard were both phenomenal with their victories, but we also received some other good showings which provided us with points and helped us," said the Panther Coach. "I was pleasantly surprised and pleased with our second place finish in the medley relay."

When you're down, you just don't get the breaks. And a couple of bad breaks in the closing seconds at Livonia Bentley Friday night again ended in a nightmare for Belleville.

With two minutes left on the clock, Belleville blew a nine point lead and lost to its Suburban 8 Conference rivals, 68-66. Two free throws by Brent Boegler sealed the Tigers' fate.

"It was just another one of those nightmares," said Gates, "but, though I'm not the one to complain about officiating, do you realize we didn't go to the free throw line once during that game?"

"It must be some kind of record," said Gates. "I can't understand it."

Gates quickly added, "that's it, no use crying about this one. We did outplay them, there's no doubt about it."

The Belleville loss, coupled with last-place Trenton's victory, left the Tigers in the cellar of the league. They're now 1-10 on the league season.

Belleville, with Al Cicotte dumping in eight of his 16 points in the first quarter, grabbed the lead 14-12, but the Livonians came back to tie the score at halftime at 26-26.

Then Mel Abraham found the range after the intermission and drilled in 12 points as the Tigers outscored their hosts 22-15 to take a 48-41 advantage into the fourth quarter.

Eric Bracke came off the bench and collected all of his nine points in the last frame while Boegler accounted for 10 to help the Bulldogs overcome the deficit.

However, Bentley's 6-8 center Tim Bollin posed most of the problems as he scored 21 points and hauled down 15 rebounds. Boegler's 23 points were tops for the game.

Abraham hit on 11 field goals for 22 points, his team's high while Cicotte wound up with 16 and Terry Pate also had two figures with 12.

Earlier in the week Plymouth rushed from a 36-31 margin to a 85-76 victory over

Romulus '5' tops Rouge

Romulus' basketball team got back on the right track last week victories over Lincoln Park and River Rouge.

The Eagles, who were coming off a 67-66 upset at the hands Inkster, routed Lincoln Park, 101-41, last Tuesday night and then topped Rouge, 55-51, on Friday night.

The triumph at Rouge was televised by Channel 56 as its "High School Game of the Week."

The victories left the Eagles with a 15-2 record and gave Coach Dave Court the impression that his team has started to jell.

"Our rebounding and defense were good against Lincoln Park and we played our best game of the season, particularly on defense, against Rouge," said Court.

Romulus offense was also in gear in the game at Lincoln Park.

John Long scored 35 points and James Hall added 20 as the Eagles hit the 100 point mark for the third time this season.

Ron Bostick added 14 points for Romulus.

The Eagles were never pressed as they held leads of 24-10, 56-21, and 75-29 at the quarter intervals.

Long, a 6-5 junior forward who is hitting on 52 percent of his field goal attempts this season, played what Court termed "an outstanding all-around game" against Lincoln Park while Hall, a 6-7 forward, led all rebounders with 19.

Things were a lot closer when the Eagles visited perennial Class B state champion River Rouge.

"This was a typical Romulus-Rouge game," commented Court. "Rouge always plays tough defense and our games with them are usually well-played and low-scoring."

Romulus jumped off to a 15-5 first quarter lead as Rouge had problems hitting from the floor against the Eagles' match-up zone.

Romulus built its lead to 30-19 at the half and then held a 47-39 advantage after three quarters.

Gut Rouge mounted a comeback and came to within two points as the game entered its final minutes.

The Panthers had three one-and-one opportunities during the last minute, but they missed the first foul shot on each occasion.

The Eagles wrapped up the game when Bostick, their 6-9 center, sank two free throws to make the score 55-51 with 27 seconds left.

Long led the way for Romulus with 24 points while Bostick scored 12 and Hall had 11.

Sophomore guard Mel Woodyard had 20 points for Rouge, which has a 10-8 record.

St. John's cage team wins title

Louis Pinter of New Boston has coached his St. John's team to the Detroit All-City Lutheran Grammar School basketball championship.

St. John's won the title when it defeated Immanuel of Mt. Clemens, 41-34, at Lutheran East High School in Harper Woods Sunday.

Pinter's team had gained the finals by triumphing in the West Division finals at Lutheran West High the previous Sunday.

Garcia, Medley win gold medals

Edsel wins '8' mat title

Belleville wrestlers Jose Garcia and George Medley finished first in their weight classes at the Suburban Eight League Meet at Trenton Saturday.

Garcia won the championship in the 141 pound class while Medley won top honors in the 158 pound class. But Belleville finished sixth in the eight-team field.

Dearborn Edsel Ford finished first in the meet with 91.5 points while host Trenton was right behind with 91.

Redford Union finished third with 81 points. Allen Park placed fourth with 38 points and Plymouth finished fifth with 35.

Both teams came in just ahead of Belleville, which totaled 34 points as it finished sixth.

Dearborn was seventh with 20½ points while Livonia Bentley was last with 10½.

Ray Wilson of Belleville finished fourth in the 129 pound class while Tiger teammate Fred Flavel was fourth at 188 pounds.

"Jose and George both did outstanding jobs in finishing first in their classes," said

Belleville Coach Gerry Malacek.

"However, some of our other boys didn't finish as high as we had expected and this kept us from taking fourth place."

"But we're a young team, Garcia is the only wrestler who will graduate, so we're looking forward to a better showing in the league next season."

Earlier in the week the Tigers had wound up the dual meet portion of their season with a 36-21 loss to Trenton. The loss left Belleville with a final league record of 1-6.

Edsel Ford finished on top during the regular season with a 7-0 record. Trenton was second at 6-1, followed by Plymouth (5-2), Redford Union (4-3), Allen Park (3-4), Dearborn (2-5), Belleville (1-6), and Livonia Bentley (0-7).

The Tigers are now preparing for Saturday's district meet at Bedford-Temperance.

Five of the top-rated Class A teams in the state will be competing at this district meet.

Garcia will be Belleville's top contender to advance past the district meet to the regional and state meets.

Chiefs host Riverview next

Airport blasts Huron

Airport cagers found their way into the double figure scoring column with Doug Shown's 14 points as high for the team.

The Chiefs also canned 11 of their 27 free throw attempts as compared to Airport's 15 of 20 performance.

Huron has two nonleague games on tap this week. The Chiefs met Ypsilanti Lincoln Tuesday night and will return home Friday to host Riverview. The Chiefs will wrap up the regular season against league rival, Carlson on March 2.

It didn't take long — about eight minutes — for Coach Andy Herman and the Chiefs to see "the traditional handwriting on the wall" Friday night at Airport.

Airport cashed in on the inept shooting by the New Boston quintet and rolled to a 17-2 first quarter lead before breezing to a 87-41 Huron Conference victory.

"They outthrust us, outplayed us, and we couldn't hit anything," said Herman afterwards. "Airport is just one heck of a ball club."

Huron managed to hit only seven of 25 shots from the field in the first half and though the Chiefs came back to put together some semblance of resistance in the second half, but, for all purposes, it was all over at the intermission.

Airport had a 41-17 lead going into the third quarter. Jim Pidgeon and Joe Richert paced the Chiefs scoring attack with 14 and 12 points, respectively, while six

Romulus cagers rank 11th in poll

Romulus has fallen to 11th in the Associated Press' Class A state high school basketball poll.

The Eagles, who were tied for tenth with Dearborn Fordson last week, dropped out of the Top Ten despite the fact that they recorded two impressive wins last week.

Romulus topped Lincoln Park, 101-41, and River Rouge, 55-51, raising its record to 15-2 in the process.

Ann Arbor Pioneer, which has a 17-0 record, held on to first place in the poll.

Detroit Catholic Central (17-0), Detroit Cooley (18-0), Saginaw (15-1), and Pontiac Central (14-2) maintained their holds on the second through fifth spots, respectively.

Berkley (16-0) placed sixth with East Lansing (14-1) seventh and Grand Blanc (16-0) eighth.

Each of these teams moved up one notch.

Detroit Northwestern (14-3) fell from sixth to ninth.

Fordson (15-2) totaled 31 points as it placed tenth while Romulus was right behind with 27 points.

Hudsonville Unity Christian held on to the top spot in the Class B poll while St. Ignace maintained its lead in Class C and Flint Holy Rosary is still No. 1 in Class D.

The voting in the poll is done by a panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters from throughout Michigan.

Where were all of Robichaud's and Wayne's basketball fans Friday night?

It was obvious that the game was a crucial one for the two schools, but only a handful of fans showed up to watch the dramatic game that ended in a 66-64 Wayne win.

Maybe Bernie Ingle, the athletic director at Robichaud, should hike the ticket prices of "key games" to $2.00. Then, the fans will realize how important a game it is. It worked when Inkster played Robichaud a visit earlier in the season.

There is a fan who would like to know why we don't publish reserve scores. I really can't answer but, if the coaches are willing, we would gladly include the scores to such games at the conclusion of our varsity game stories.

Please don't ask us to elaborate on the reserve games. Heck, we just don't have the manpower to do so.

Romulus eyes district crown in wrestling

Romulus will be one of the top contenders in the Class A District wrestling tournament at Bedford-Temperance Saturday.

A field of 20 schools will be on hand, with preliminary competition beginning at noon and the finals scheduled for 6 p.m.

Romulus, which is tied for second in this week's coaches poll, will join four of the state's other top seven teams in the Bedford-Temperance field.

Top-ranked Ypsilanti, Wayne Memorial, Bedford-Temperance, and Adrian are the other state powers who will be competing.

Romulus matmen move up in poll

Romulus has moved into a tie for second in the Michigan High School Wrestling Coaches Association's Class A state poll.

The Eagles, who were third last week, moved into a deadlock for second place with Bay City Handy and Adrian. All three teams have 42 points.

Ypsilanti had a total of 54 points in the voting and retained the No. 1 spot.

The remaining six teams in the Top Ten are: Warren Lincoln (39), Bedford-Temperance (29), Wayne (25), Farmington (14), Battle Creek

Belleville grapplers also will see action at Bedford-Temperance.

"This is definitely the toughest of the eight district tournaments that will be held this weekend," said Romulus Coach Jim Stallings. "Only four wrestlers from each weight class can advance to the regionals the following week, so there will be a lot of top men who will not make it."

The regional tournament will be held on March 2 at Walled Lake Western.

Stallings feels that Eagle grapplers Phil Ford, Bradley Smith, Vergil Smith, Robert Morrison, Marvin Williams, and Henry Reid are top contenders for district honors.

Ford, a junior, had a 29-10 record in the 122 pound class, while Bradley Smith, another junior, was 32-3-1 at 135 pounds.

Vergil Smith, a senior, was 25-6 at 141 pounds, Morrison, a senior, was 35-2 at 170 pounds, Williams, a senior, was 33-5 while wrestling at 188, and Reid, a junior who is in his first year of competition, was 32-9-1 in the heavyweight division.

Several of these top contenders have set school records during the 1972-73 season.

Williams has established school marks of 93 career wins and 61 career pins.

Morrison, who had 25 wins in a row earlier this season, set a school record with 35 wins.

Aaron Cross, who graduated last year, held the old single season mark of 30 wins.

Morrison, Reid, Williams and Bradley Smith all surpassed Cross' old mark.

Romulus finished fifth in its district tourney last year and went on to place third at the regional and sixth at the state meet.

Stallings is hopeful that the team will place higher this year.

The Eagles warmed up for the district by topping Lutheran West, 47-12, and Willow Run, 34-15, in dual meets last week. The triumphs enabled Romulus to close out its season with a 10-3 dual meet record.

The results of the meet are:

ROMULUS 47, LUTHERAN WEST 12
101 - Lemar Sandusky (R) pinned John Storr, 1:32

guards, Tony Owens and Ron Kersey," said Court.

"It's always a pleasure to play River Rouge and Coach Lofton Greene," added Court.

"We've played them six times since I've been here and we're all even at 3-3. There's also been a total difference of just nine points in the six games, so it seems that this last game was typical of the series."

Romulus hit on 20 of 55 field goal attempts and 15 of 25 foul shots against Rouge. The Panthers were 24 of 57 from the floor and three of nine at the line.

Romulus held a 49-44 rebounding edge.

The Eagles hosted Cranbrook last night.

After being idle this Friday they'll visit Dearborn Heights Robichaud next Tuesday.

Tigers

Belleville. The Tigers, who led most of the first half thanks to the scoring of Abraham and Pate, lost the momentum when 6-3 Tim VanWagoner led a Plymouth comeback in the third quarter.

VanWagoner sank a game high 29 points while Kevin Moore added 15 and Steve Robb collected 14 for the Rocks, who also made 15 of 20 from the free throw line.

Pate's 25 points, his best scoring of the season, was tops for the Tigers who also got 22 and 20 points from Cicotte and Abraham, respectively. The Tigers also looked their best of the season at the charity stripe where they cashed in on 16 of 19 free throws.

After visiting Wayne Memorial Tuesday night, Belleville will be back in league action Friday night when they host Edsel Ford.

THE 'EAGLES ARE BACK' — In one of their low moments of the season, Romulus dropped a 67-66 nonleague decision to Inkster (above), but that loss appears to have ignited Coach Dave Court's Eagles who have roared back to jolt Lincoln Park and stun River Rouge in their latest outings. Romulus was scheduled to play Cranbrook last night and will resume action at Dearborn Heights Robichaud Tuesday night. The first time around Romulus turned back the highly-touted Heights cagers, 69-55. Above, Romulus' 6-9 senior center Ron Bostick pulls down a rebound, leaving an Inkster cager in his wake.

Little League info

And there's this gal at Franklin Pierce College in Rindge, New Hampshire, who apparently has this "thing" about Little League baseball and will need some help.

Evelyn Sargent writes: "I'm doing a survey of Little League baseball in your state and I would like to receive the following information on Little League organizers in your area: Name, Address and town of such groups."

"Your consideration to this matter will be greatly appreciated. Please send the above information to my home address:

Box 148, Fitzwilliam, N.H., 03447."

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS MINUTES

The Regular Meeting of the Van Buren Board of Education was held in the Board Room of the Administration Building on Monday, January 8, 1973 at 8:00 p.m.

Members present: Mrs. Doris Roe, Mr. Charles Bole, Dr. Richard Muse, Mr. Elwood Bos, Mr. Lynn Hamilton, Mr. James Sayre, and Mr. Robert Archer, Superintendent Kaulitz, Business Manager Von Destinson, Curriculum Director Kohr, and Elementary Supervisor Gray were also present.

Minutes of the previous meeting were approved and ordered filed.

Motion by Muse, supported by Hamilton, to approve all bills as submitted for payment. Motion carried.

Mr. Greg Heuer, conductor of the Belleville High School Bands, was present to give a report in regard to new uniforms for the Belleville High School Band. This consisted of a written report, preliminary drawings, and a sample uniform. Several members of the audience, including representatives of Band Mothers, indicated their desires regarding the need for new uniforms and the type requested.

Mr. Richard Hansor reported relative to his attendance at the Van Buren Township Planning Commission meeting.

Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds, Mr. Ed Peck, reported to the Board relative to the installation and completion of the alarm system at North Junior High. He also reported that the 1951 Ford dump truck was inoperative and that the repair costs made the further use of said vehicle impractical. He also reported that specifications for bids on a delivery van had been presented and that only one bid had been received, from Atchinson Ford, in the amount of $5,585.00. He further reported on vandalism at the high school athletic field and various corrective methods used. Cost of an alarm system was discussed.

Business Manager Von Destinson reported on the proposed use of the Butler Buildings at the vocational school site for maintenance and storage of equipment.

Curriculum Director Raymond Kohr gave a detailed report relative to the progress on the building trades course which has a target date for September 1973. This is a self-supporting program and there are approximately 50 students interested in the program. Mr. Kohr further reported that one major obstacle was locating a qualified instructor because the instructor needs to be a licensed contractor.

Superintendent Dale Kaulitz reported relative to the problems being encountered in moving the vacant mobile classroom to Edgemont School for use by the Chapter 3 program. Superintendent Kaulitz is to continue to obtain the necessary approval so that the mobile classroom can be utilized at that site. Superintendent Kaulitz further reported that the funds for this will be available from Chapter 3 thus it can be accomplished at no cost to the district.

Superintendent Kaulitz reported relative to the Michigan Association of School Boards conference on finance and legislation to be held at Michigan State University campus on Monday, January 22, 1973.

After questions and comments from visitors, on motion duly made and passed, the meeting was adjourned.
